I want to comunicate better and quickly with every member of my team during stressed situations

Say

I would like to keep track of the tasks and progress

I want to know, after the event is finished, what we did wrong but also what we did good

Feels

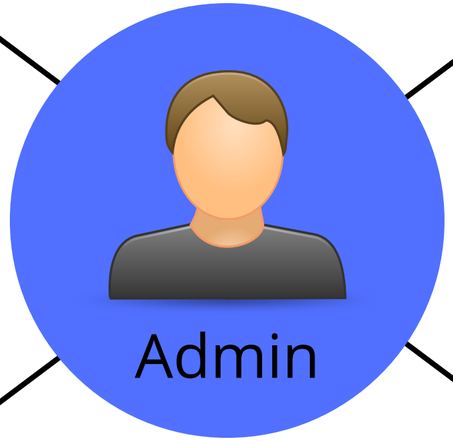

Lost

Uncapable of communicate

Stressed

Overwhelmed

Curious of what happened during the event

Does

Check and use whatsapp a lot to communicate with team members

Stress out because they do not know enough about what is going on

Name one staff member as the responsable of everything in his/her area to manage

Thinks

What is the status of these tasks? are they done already? who is doing them?

Who was working in this area? Who is the substitute?

Pain

- The admin team does no know what is each staff member doing, what is their role and their tasks
- The admin team does not have the info post-event, to check it and improve the event itself
- The admin team can not communicate properly with the staff team and delegate tasks to them on time, and check tasks status
